BA in History

The Department of Geography, Sociology, History, African-American Studies, and Anthropology offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Africana Studies and a minor in History and Africana Studies for students majoring in other disciplines. All department majors must complete the assessment requirements specific to their major field, copies of which can be obtained from the departmental website.

The department's Bachelor of Arts degree in History and Africana Studies consists of three options: Liberal Arts Option in History, Liberal Arts Option in Africana Studies, and Secondary Teaching Option in History. Students enrolled in Liberal Arts Options in History and Africana Studies may prepare for careers such as law, public service, government, foreign relations, or for postgraduate study. Completion of the Secondary Teaching Option in History qualifies students for an Initial Illinois Professional Educator License (PEL) with an endorsement for teaching Social Studies for grades 9-12. Teaching licensure requires the successful completion of Social Studies with History content area test and edTPA.

Highlights

- Classes cover a wide range of American and World History, with a particular focus on African- American and African History
- Flexible major with a large number of electives
- Can lead to careers and graduate study in law, public service, teaching, foreign relations, and more
